ST. PAUL CARRIES GIRL BRIDE

AND FIRST-VOTER HUSBAND, WHO MARRIED SUDDENLY.

Announcement Made Four Days After They Had Filtted Off to Sea-Parents

Satisfied, if Surprised, and All Serene. Crossing the ocean on the American liner St. Paul, which sailed last Wednesday, is a bride who is not over 16 years old and her husband, who will cast his first vote in the fall. They were married a week ago last Saturday. Public announcement of the wedding was made yesterday in the following notice

JONES-DEANE.-Florence Marguerite, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Deane, to Edward Alex-

Dr. W. C. Deane is a dentist who has an office at 114 East Sixtieth street and lives at East Orange. At his office yesterday an elderly man said that the bride would be 15 years old in the fall and that the bridegroom is about 20 years old.

"They went down to Stroudsburg, Pa., a week ago last Saturday," he said, "and were married. I think it was a runaway match. Dr. Deane objected because they were too young. Mrs. Deane wasn't against the match, however, and when they notified their parents they were forgiven and they sailed for Europe on their honeymoon last Wednesday."

A young woman at Dr. Deane's home at East Orange said over the telephone yes-

A young woman at Dr. Deane's home at East Orange said over the telephone yesterday: Mr. Jones is in the woollen business. His father is a retired merchant. The young people went down to Stroudsburg and were married. Then they notified papa and mamma by telegraph and it was all right. They sailed for Europe on the St. Paul on last Wednesday.

"But [pause] they were really not married at Stroudsburg. They were married in New York. My sister is 16 years old and her husband is 21, but you mustn't say anything about that."

Dr. Deane telephoned to The Sun after this conversation to say that his daughter had been married in New York and that he and his wife and the parents of the bridegroom sanctioned the marriage.

"My daughter was not married at Stroudsburg," said Dr. Deane. "She was married at Twelfth street and Second avenue."

Edward Alexander Jones, the father of the young bridegroom, is secretary of the International Medical Missionary Society and lives at 59 North Clinton street, East Orange. Mrs. Jones said yesterday that she and her husband were perfectly content with their son's wedding, that they had known the bride and expected that their son would marry her.

ANNOYED BY FACTORY LOAFERS.

Woman Complains of Noon Hour Conditions in the Cloak Factory District.

A New York girl wrote to THE SUN yesterday to complain of the men who loiter slong Broadway and the cross streets west of it, from Ninth street to Thirteenth treet, during the noon hour of every working day. Persons living in lower Fifth avenue and the streets crossing it have wondered why somebody didn't complain of this nuisance long ago. It has been permitted to exist for three or four years, or since the centre of the town's industry in cloaks, suits, shirt waists, feathers and in cloaks, suits, shirt waists, feathers and furs has been in that section of the city bounded by Broadway, University place, Thirteenth street and Waverley place.

Thousands of men and women are employed in these factories and at noon they pour from the lofts into the streets. The women promptly disperse to restaurants for luncheon. The men get their noon meal, as a rule, from the pushcarts. The remains of the luncheons are thrown on the sidewalks or into the streets and the walks are made or into the streets and the walks are made more attractive by pools of tobacco juice. Then the loiterers mass themselves until street and sidewalk are jammed so that other pedestrians would need a troop of cavairy to get them through the crowd in anything like comfort.

So far the police have done nothing to keep the streets clear and nobody seems to have noticed that the ordinances regarding the littering of the streets are violated. every day. Every now and again a solitary dlers and gets laughed at for his pains.

CEDRIC IN A LITTLE LATE. The Widowed Countess Zborowski Returns to America.

The White Star liner Cedric, in yesterday from Liverpool and Queenstown, was detained thirteen hours in the Mersey uncoupling a fractured cylinder of her port engine. She proceeded with of her port engine. She proceeded with only triple-expansion power on the port propeller, averaging 18½ knots. Among her passengers were the Countess Zborowski, whose husband, William Elliott Zborowski, was killed in an automobile accident in Europe on April 1. Her son, L. V. Zborowski, accompanied her. The Countess, who was Miss Carey and afterward Baroness, de Stuers, is a granddaughter. who was Miss Carey and afterward Baroness de Stuers, is a granddaughter of William B. Astor. POLICEMAN'S POOR AIM AT A DOG. Third Shot Hit Him, but Didn't Kill Him -Another Cop Landed Him.

Thirteen-year-old Frances Friedman was playing in front of her home, 106 Seventh playing in front of her home, 106 Seventh avenue, yesterday afternoon when a yellow mongrel dog trotted up to her. The dog appeared friendly and the girl began to frolic with it. Suddenly the dog leaped at her and bit her hand and arm. Policeman Billaffer heard her cry of pain and ran up and shot at the animal. His first shot hit a lamppost and the second struck a watering trough. The third bullet hit the dog in the head, but inflicted only a slight wound.

The dog then ran down Seventh avenue the dog then ran down seventh avenue to Fourteenth street, then over to Wes street and down that street to Jane. Police man Quackenbush saw the dog as it neared Jane street and when it came up to him shot it dead.

LAST OF THE FIVE POINTS. Half a Dozen of the Old Hovels Glving Way to a New Park.

All that is left of the Five Points as it appeared in the days of Dickens's visit to New York is disappearing with the tearing down of the tumble-down, peak-roofed down of the tumble-down, peak-roofed hovels which occupy the Worth street part of the little triangle between the Five Points House of Industry and the intersection of Worth and Baxter streets.

The city is clearing the space for a little park which will connect Paradise Park with Mulberry Bend. It includes all the properties on Worth street for 127 feet from the corner and those on Baxter street for 100 feet. There are some half dozen of the old hovels left sandwiched in between five-story tenements of the Italian invasion.

Father Daly Ill From Overwork. Father William J. B. Daly, pastor of St Malachy's, has been ill since the close of his fair at the Grand Central Palace. Overwork brought on a serious attack of ma-laris and a nervous collapse. Father Daly is much improved and has returned to his rectory. He is holding services for his con-gregation in the West Side Lyceum.

A WISE NEGRO DRIVER. He Shows a White Driver How to Tighten

Up a Load of Hay. A long, sloping dray was going up West street piled high with baled hay, when the tie ropes slipped and the load parted, leaving a wide gap between the bales just forward of the rear wheels. The driver made strenuous attempts to get the loosened bales back in place and was about to unload and reload his dray, when a colored teamster remarked: "I'll show you how to get them back," and taking a long wagon rope he passed it around the back of the recreant bales. Then he on either side-front end of the dray and on either side-front end of the dray and brought the free ends of the rope back to the rear hubs on each side of the wagon. Taking a full turn of the rope around each hub he seized the ends and stepped back, throwing his weight upon the ropes and shouting, "Now drive ahead!"

The team started, the darky held back and the hubs, acting as winches, hauled the hay up tightly in place. As the driver retired his load the darky remarked. "I didn't work 'round cotton bales for nothing." He was loudly applauded by those who stopped to watch the working of his scheme.

TRYING TO KEEP DRY IN CAMP. Few Visitors-Ditching the Tents-A Sermon and Lecture.

PEERSKILL, June 14.-The rain changed the programme of the first Sunday in camp of the Twenty-second Regiment of Engineers. The Rev. Dr. William N. Dunnell, chaplain, had contemplated a service on the bluff at 11 o'clock, but was compelled to hold it in the Colonel's tent. He had a large congregation.
The lecture of Col. John Bogart, engineer-

The lecture of Col. John Bogart, engineering officer, on intrenchments, which was also to have been given on the bluff, was transferred to Col. Bogart's tent on account of the rain. Many of the officers attended. Most of the time was devoted to ditching the tents, taking care of the downpour of water and keeping dry.

Owing to the inclement weather there were few visitors. A dozen women who ventured up the 117 steps to the plateau returned with bedraggled skirts and a sorry look.

The health of the regiment is of the best and there were to-night 618 men to answer to roll call. Every officer of the Colonel's staff is present except Major S. F. Hart.

CAMERA COMPANIES TO COMBINE Eastman Kodak Co. to Purchase the Rochester Optical and Camera Co.

ROCHESTER, June 14.-There was a flurry in Rochester Optical and Camera Company stock yesterday owing to its probable purchase by the Eastman Kodak Company. A meeting of the stockholders of the Optical and Camera Company is to be held on Monday night. Two-thirds of the shareholders must vote in favor of the proposition submitted by the Eastman concern in order to carry by the Eastman concern in order to carry it through. There is little doubt that the offer will be accepted.

The Rochester Optical and Camera Company is capitalized at $2,000,000. It has been a competitor of the Eastman company, but for several years the stock has been selling at a low figure. Harvey F. Carlton was one of the early presidents of the company, and litigation arose when he severed his connection with the company which never came to trial. At that time there was talk of absorption by the Eastman company, but Louis E. Kirkstein was elected president and the plan fell through.

The Optical and Camera common stock sold at 1½ yesterday and the preferred sold at 1% yesterday and the preferred

A Remarkable Half-Price Offering of

Women's White Lawn Dresses

This is a collection of about seven hundred and fifty charming White Shirt-waist Dresses of the most pleasing summery sort. The picture was drawn from one of the dresses. They are spic-span-new, just made up, by one of the most prominent manufacturers in this city.

They are made of sheer white lawn, in various handsome styles. Waists are prettily embroidered; some are open down the front, others in the back; and each has a stock tie. Skirts are made with seven gores and flounce, and each gore has an effective hemstitch inside of a seam; the flounce is also hemstitched to the skirt.

They are suits that we counted excellent value at $6. Today they are just half price-

Three Dollars a Suit!

All sizes from 32 to 40. Seven hundred and fifty Dresses seems like an ample quantity, but they will probably go in a jiffy at today's remarkably little price.

Women's Sailor Hats At 50c, instead of $1

These are regular Dollar Sailors, in the popular shape; made of good, full sennit straw, forming substantial well-made, good-looking hats that would be counted excellent dollar value anywhere.

Our good fortune, and yours, makes them half price-50c Second floor, Tenth street.

Beautiful Ribbons At Half Price

This is an offering of about two thousand yards of beautiful and popular ribbons, in two styles, one at a trifle less than half price, and the other just that much more than half price. They are exactly the ribbons that every woman wants to wear with summer dresses from

The first group is composed of ribbons 4% inches wide. in white, light blue, rose, mais, violet, cardinal, lettuce, with flower center, and also in solid white. We have been selling the same ribbons at 45c a yard.

MORTALITY IN CONNECTICUT. | THIEVES AT LETTER BOXES. | MARY BAKER G. EDDY EXPLAINS. Animus of Her Reply to an Article in the "Literary Digest."

CONCORD, N. H., June 14 .-- Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy authorizes the following

Baker G. Eddy authorizes the following statement regarding a recent discussion in the public press:

"My recent reply to the reprint of a scandal in the Literary Digrst was not a question of 'Who shall be greatest?' but 'Who shall be just?' Who is or is not the founder of Christian Science was not the trend of thought, but to lift the curtain on wrong, on falsehood, persistently misrepresenting my character, education and authorship, and attempting to narrow my life into a conflict for fame.

"Far be it from me to tread on the ashes of the dead, or to discover any unity that may exist between Christian Science and the philosophy of a great and good man, for such was Ralph Waldo Emerson, and I deem it unwise to enter into a newspaper controversy over a question that is no longer a question. The false should be antagonized only for the purpose of making the true transparent. I have quite another purpose in life than to be thought great time and goodness determine greatness.
